Subject: IGI Batch Number 2360683

Dear Family History Library Support,

By this present email I am following the suggestion found at https://familysearch.org/learn/wiki/en/Finding_the_Source_of_IGI_Batch_Numbers (under the heading "Source Call Number and Type") which states, "If the IGI record has a batch number, but does not have a call number, contact Family History Library Support (support@familysearch.org) for assistance in obtaining the call number."

The IGI batch number I am dealing with is 2360683.

I obtained that number from the following search result from a search conducted on Catterina Lagomarsino (ID Number MDV2-996) performed in the Community Contributed IGI database (not in the Community Indexed IGI database), which you can see here:

https://familysearch.org/pal:/MM9.2.1/MDV2-996

You will note that in the "Sources" entry on that search-results page the reference is given simply as "Parish Printout." My objective is to discover what exact "Parish Printout" that refers to and if the IGI entry for her perhaps resulted from a patron submission sheet I'd like to find that sheet.

You will note that an entry now appears for Catterina also in Family Tree:

https://familysearch.org/tree/#view=ancestor&person=MDV2-996

Although the Community Contributed IGI entry for her does not supply the death date (it was not needed for ordinances), the Family Tree entry for her does supply a death date (an exact date). Because it is an exact date that is given for the death of Catterina Lagomarsino and only a year that is given for her birth, my suspicion is that the "Parish Printout" referred to in the "Sources" likely is a parish printout pertaining to Catterina's death and not to her birth. And if you look at the "Latest Changes" box on the right and click on "Show all," you will see that the death date entry for her was added to Family Tree on "10 June 2012" and the information relative to her father was added to Family Tree on "29 September 2012."

I would therefore like to get the call number for the IGI batch number 2060683. I suspect, but don't know, that I'll need to bring my temple recommend to the Special Collections room on the second floor of the Family History Library in Salt Lake City in order to view the record that cited the "Parish Printout" and gave the exact date of birth. Is that correct?

Kindly respond to stephen@ehat.org.

I am keenly interested in this Catterina Lagomarsino because the information about her in the IGI and in Family Tree (which did NOT result from any submissions that I have made) closely matches the information about a Catterina Lagomarsino I have been researching, who was born on 23 August 1824 in Tasso, Lumarzo, Genova, Liguria, Italy. I have never been able to learn the death date for her; one possibility has been a death in 1892 in San Francisco -- see page 5 of 8 of notes in her family group record from my personal database:

https://dl.dropboxusercontent.com/u/74900551/Family_Group_Sheet_Catterina_Lagomarsino.pdf and now these entries, apparently for the same person, showing up in the IGI and Family Tree, suggest a 14 Feb 1885 death date somewhere in some unidentified "Parish Printout." My interest in her extends far beyond a mere death date (which otherwise is not all that relevant); the Catterina Lagomasino that I have been researching lived four households away from my great grandfather in San Francisco in 1880 and she was from Tasso and that fact serves as a piece of weak but important circumstantial evidence that he, too, may have been from Tasso (that's a very, very long story).

You can see the search parameters for my IGI searches here, showing how I found the IGI entry in the Community Contributed IGI and not in the Community Indexed IGI:

Found in the Community Contributed IGI:

Thanks.
