Third Generation

4. Angelo Lagomarsino was born about 1836/1837 in Lagomarsino, Lumarzo, Genova, Liguria, Italy. Angelo married Catterina Lagomarsino.

   Possibly = RIN 1603.

5. Catterina Lagomarsino was born about 1838/1839 in Lagomarsino, Lumarzo, Genova, Liguria, Italy.

   Possibly = RIN 1604.

They had the following children.

M i. Giuseppe Lagomarsino was born in Apr 1856/1857 in Lagomarsino, Lumarzo, Genova, Liguria, Italy. He died on 31 Aug 1910 in San Francisco, San Francisco, California, United States. He was buried on 3 Sep 1910 in Holy Cross Catholic Cemetery, Colma, San Mateo, California, United States.

Because Giuseppe Lagomarsino's (RIN 2307's) brother, Francesco Giacinto Lagomarsino (RIN 5389), married a woman named Catherine Oliva (RIN 5499), it seems quite possible that the below-quoted newspaper articles—from issues of the Daily Alta California and the San Francisco Chronicle—relate to the Giuseppe Lagomarsino (RIN 2307) whose family demonstrably came from the frazione di Lagomarsino in the comune di Lumarzo. (See family of MRIN 1955, Angelo Lagomarsino (RIN 5388) and his wife Catterina Lagomarsino (RIN 5504) and their three sons, Giuseppe (RIN 2307), Francesco Giacinto (RIN 5389), and Luigi Tomasso (RIN 5390):

July 2, 1887 (Daily Alta California):
A Fight in a Garden.
John Lockhead and Joseph Bender, accompanied by the former's family, took a day off yesterday, and procuring a vehicle drove to the beach to fish. When passing through the Italian vegetable garden near the old racetrack, for which privilege they paid the keeper fifty cents, they accidentally collided with a hothouse and broke two panes of glass. A row ensued, Lockhead being badly beaten about the head by the gardener and his employees. The gardener will be arrested to-day.

July 2, 1887 (San Francisco Chronicle):
CONTENDING FORCES.
A Fishing Party and Italian Gardeners.
John Lockhead was treated at the receiving hospital last evening for divers scalp wounds. It appear that in company with his wife, Joseph Bender and two women Mr. Lockhead had hired a one-horse carry-all to haul the entire party to a lake just beyond the half-mile race-track. It was necessary to cross an Italian garden and in doing so several panes of glass were broken in a hothouse by collision with the carryall. Mr. Lockhead states that he offered a dollar damages. The Italians were angered by the remarks of the female portion of the caravan, construed an insulting, and demanded $5. Upon refusal the Italians, it is stated, assaulted Mr. Lockhead and took the carriage in charge. At a late hour the party succeeded in regaining the carriage, failing to pay the gardeners, and returned to the city.

July 13, 1887 (Daily Alta California):
Turbulent Italians.
Two Italian gardeners, named Francisco Itiggini and J. Lugumasina, were arrested on Forty-ninth avenue last night and charged with an assault with an intent to do great bodily harm. They were arrested on warrants sworn out by Joseph Bender, who claims that about ten days ago they gave him a severe beating.

July 20, 1887 (Daily Alta California):
Fishermen and Gardeners.
Francisco Oleva and J. Lagomarsino, the two Italian vegetable gardeners who assaulted Joseph Lockhardt, Joseph Bender and their families as they were returning from a fishing trip about two weeks ago, were examined by Judge Hornblower yesterday. Some trouble arose between the fishermen and gardeners through the breaking of a few panes of glass by the fishermen's buggy. A demand for $5 to pay the damage was refused, and spades, hoes and neck yokes were freely used to collect the amount, Lockhardt and Bender being considerably bruised in the fracas. Some very conflicting evidence was introduced, especially on the part of the gardeners. Both defendants were held to answer before a higher Court in the sum of $2,500 each.

August 14, 1887 (Daily Alta California):
Lochhead Sues for Damages.
As a sequel to the assault made upon John Lochhead on July 1st, by G. Lagomarsino and Francis Oliva, the former yesterday began a civil action in the Superior Court against his assailants to recover $5,000 damages. It is set forth in the complaint that the defendants attacked him and played a tatoo upon his head and body with shovel handles and neckyokes. Lochhead was severely injured and was laid up for several weeks. His assailants were arrested on a charge of assault to murder, and are awaiting trial in the criminal Court.

November 19, 1887 (Daily Alta California):
Francisco Olivia and J. Lagomasina, both charged with an assault with a deadly weapon, pleaded guilty to an assault in Judge Murphy's Court yesterday and were each fined $20. The men had a lively row on the 1st of July and assaulted each other with shovels.

Because Giuseppe Lagomarsino's (RIN 2307's) brother, Francesco Giacinto Lagomarsino (RIN 5389), married a woman named Catherine Oliva (RIN 5499), it seems quite possible that the above newspaper articles—from the July 2, July 13, July 20, and August 14, 1887 issues of the Daily Alta California and the July 2, 1887 issue of the San Francisco Chronicle—relate to the Giuseppe Lagomarsino (RIN 2307) whose family demonstrably came from the frazione di Lagomarsino in the comune di Lumarzo. (See family of MRIN 1955, Angelo Lagomarsino (RIN 5388) and his wife Catterina Lagomarsino (RIN 5504) and their three sons, Giuseppe (RIN 2307), Francesco Giacinto (RIN 5389), and Luigi Tomasso (RIN 5390).
