DALY CITY--A 59-year-old man suffered deep face cuts early today when the car in which he was riding swerved out of control on Market street, sideswiped a car and plowed into a house. Angelo Lagomarsino of Colma was treated for a laceration of the forehead and deep cut of the left nostril at Junipero Serra hospital and released. Lagomarsino was riding in a car driven by Bertha Rang, 64, a housewife of 225 Los Banos street, Daly City, who told police she was going east on market street, when a car cut in front of her. She swerved, bounced off a parked car and both her car and parked car plowed into the house at 186 East Market street belonging to William F. Hagerty. Officer Ralph Warren, who investigated, said damage to the house was 'minor.' Owner of the parked care which was hit is Ellen
